To whom it may concern: Renaming Cologne University of Applied Sciences in TH Köln - University of Applied Sciences

Dear students at TH Köln,

As of September 1, Cologne University of Applied Sciences is known as Technische Hochschule Köln – abbreviated as TH Köln. For many years now, Cologne University of Applied Sciences has been a pioneer in regard to the innovation and change processes among Universities of Applied Sciences. With its new name TH Köln, the University of Applied Sciences wants to express its individual potential – its interdisciplinary character, internationality and interculturality, excellent teaching and socially relevant research. Examinations taken at Cologne University of Applied Sciences along with your obtained degrees remain effective without restrictions under the new name.

Sincerely

Prof. Dr. Sylvia Heuchemer
